I. INTRODUCTION

Idaho State University (ISU or University) recognizes the educational value to students from traveling on behalf of the institution and strives to facilitate such travel.

A payment for or reimbursement to a student for travel expenses may be either a business expense or treated as a stipend or award (SA) payment depending on certain criteria. This policy provides guidance to assist faculty, staff, and students in accurately determining the payment classification. Properly documented business expenses are generally non-taxable payments or reimbursements. However, SA payments may be taxable income to the student and may require withholding and reporting if the student is a non-U.S. person.

II. POLICY STATEMENT

Students participating in travel officially sponsored by the University are required to comply with this policy as well as other ISU and State of Idaho travel policies, rules, regulations, and laws. Students traveling on behalf of the University must be enrolled at ISU for the term(s) in which they are traveling and their travel authorizations and related reimbursements must conform to University Business Travel ISUPP 2000.

III. AUTHORITY AND RESPONSIBILITIES

A. Student employees of ISU traveling for the benefit of the department in which they are employed are required to process their pre-approval and expense reimbursement through the University’s travel system and become familiar with the University Business Travel policy found here: https://www.isu.edu/travel/.

B. Student travelers who are not ISU employees must file an approved paper travel authorization and reimbursement form with Accounts Payable. The form is available on the Travel Services website at https://www.isu.edu/travel/travel-forms/. Receipts must be attached to the travel reimbursement request form and must meet the same requirements for receipts detailed in University Business Travel ISUPP 2000.
C. Student travelers must complete the Clery Act Student Travel form upon the return from travel and submit the form to Public Safety. The form is available on the Public Safety webpage and can be emailed to clery@isu.edu. In accordance with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (Clery Act), travel information will be provided to public Safety for any ISU sponsored student trip that involves a stay of two (2) or more nights in a hotel or other form of accommodation. The information required is inclusive of all locations used by students during the trip (e.g., hotel, classroom, training center), controlled by ISU during the trip (e.g., reserved hotel rooms), and used to support education purposes. The same requirement applies to all ISU sponsored student trips of one (1) night or more to the same location on an annual basis.

D. The account director (Approver) is responsible to ensure all travel forms (electronic or paper) are completed properly and funds are available.

E. When the student returns from travel, the Approver is responsible for ensuring the Clery Act Student Travel form is completed by the student and submitted to Public Safety.

F. The Controller’s Office has the final authority to make decisions on the taxability of student reimbursements.

IV. DEFINITIONS

Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security and Campus Crime Statistics Act (Clery Act)- The Clery Act requires all institutions of higher education that receive Title IV funding (federal financial aid) to disclose certain crime statistics on an annual and daily basis, and maintain specific policies, procedures, and crime awareness programs to prevent and mitigate criminal activity. Institutions of higher education must report all crimes that may have occurred during institution sponsored student travel.

V. PROCEDURES TO IMPLEMENT

A. Reimbursements for students travel are not reportable to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) as income if the reimbursement meets any of the following criteria:
   • Directly supports a faculty member’s project or research program
   • Is related to presenting at a conference
   • Is an integral part of the student’s degree work, or
   • Is official University Business

B. Reimbursements to any student for travel which does not meet one of the criteria above will be treated as taxable SA income and will be reported to the students and the IRS on form 1099-MISC or form 1042S.

C. To certify the payment is official University business, the student must provide a clear statement that documents the purpose of the travel.

D. Non-taxable Travel Reimbursement
   The student travel payment is generally considered to be a reimbursement (nontaxable, not reportable) if:
   1. The primary purpose and original intent is for the university to obtain useful results from the project/research. For example, student travels to Costa Rica to perform research, which happens to be the topic of her/his dissertation. The University would perform research on this topic, regardless of the student’s research; the University is the primary beneficiary.

2. Research is performed to fulfill University obligations to an outside entity.

3. Activity is required for a degree or credit or impacts the student’s grade. For example, student travels to Texas to present at a conference where the student’s name is published as a conference presenter/contributor. The presentation is part of the student’s grade for a biology class.

4. Student is presenting at or actively participating in a conference or competition on behalf of the University. For example, student travels to Colorado to represent the University in a scholastic competition.

E. Taxable Travel Expense Reimbursement—The student travel payment is generally considered to be a taxable and reportable award if:

1. Reimbursement is made for activities in which the University does not actively participate or for research that is student led. The primary purpose and original intent of the student’s project or research is to further the student’s education or training. For example, student travels to Canada for dissertation research which is not research the University would otherwise conduct. The student dissertation is the primary purpose of the travel and the student is the primary beneficiary.

2. The University obtains little or no benefit from the travel. For example, student travels to a conference in Florida as an attendee and does not present/contribute in an official capacity.

3. The student’s travel is performed to contribute to the development of the skills needed in the student’s studies. For example, student travels to China for Mandarin language training which will assist in language proficiency needed for his/her degree. The travel is not a required part of the degree.
