

Idaho State UNIVERSITY

Physical Therapy Program

Cost of Attendance

Upon admission to the Doctor of Physical Therapy program, students have assessed tuition and professional fees. Refer to the tables below which list resident and non-resident rates of tuition and professional fees. Please note that the Idaho State University graduate student tuition and the Doctor of Physical Therapy program professional fees may increase annually.

* Idaho State University requires all students to have medical insurance coverage. The university no longer offers a student health insurance plan.

2018-2019 Resident Tuition and Fees	Fall Semester	Spring Semester	Summer Semester
Tuition (includes University Fees)	$4,688	$4,688	$470/credit
Professional Program Fees	$1,500	$1,500	$1,500

2018-2019 Non-Resident Tuition and Fees	Fall Semester	Spring Semester	Summer Semester
Tuition (includes University Fees)	$12,448	$12,448	$470/credit
Professional Program Fees	$3,240	$3,240	$3,240

*For more information about residency or how to establish residency, contact the ISU Office of Admissions at (208) 282-2475 or visit <https://isu.edu/registrar/residency/>

Total Estimated Cost of Attendance (over the entire 3-year program)	Resident	Non-Resident
Based on 2018-2019 Tuition & Fees	$48,588	$109,068

* Estimated cost of attendance is based on the 2017-2018 tuition and professional fees and does not include insurance, books, and supplies, travel expenses, cost of living, etc. When reviewing these figures, please remember that tuition and fees increase on an annual basis.

Items	Cost Estimate
Books and supplies, clinical and travel expenses, immunizations, etc.	$14,500
American Physical Therapy Association student membership	$100/year