

Idaho State University

2021

Anti-Human Trafficking Symposium

November 5
10 AM - 3 PM

POND STUDENT UNION
WOOD RIVER ROOMS

Join us on November 5, 2021, in the Wood and Little Wood River Rooms located in the Pond Student Union, from 10:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m., for the "Anti-Human Trafficking Symposium." This event is free and open to everyone including service providers, and community members. Parking will be free in Lot #1 next to the Pond Student Union.

Human trafficking spans the United States and occurs in every state, including Idaho. There is a network of people that target individuals and can reach victims through a variety of means. The industry is growing in profitability, making human trafficking appealing to many and increasing the number of young people falling victim to traffickers. The symposium will describe the scope of the problem and potential solutions.

This event is being hosted by the Gender Resource Center at Idaho State University.

Gender Resource Center | (208) 282-3590

Scan QR code to register.

Register at <https://forms.gle/WRRMfw5UKe4Cq92w5>