Higher Education Leadership and Administrative Experience

Inaugural Vice Provost for Graduate Education and Dean of the Graduate School. Kansas State University, Jan. 2021- present

Kansas State University (KSU) Institutional profile: Established as the state's land-grant college in 1863, it is a public land-grant research university with its main campus in Manhattan, Kansas. The university is classified among "R1: Doctoral Universities – Very high research activity," with a student population of approximately 20,000 students, including over 4,200 graduate students.

- Provide strategic leadership and vision to advance graduate education in directions consistent with university goals and priorities and the evolving role of graduate education in the 21st century. To lead the growth, development, quality, and continuation of graduate programs and graduate education at KSU.
- Partner closely with the leadership to formulate and implement a comprehensive and visionary strategy that engages prospective and current graduate students from Kansas, across the country, and internationally.
- Support, enhance and strengthen graduate student research, and the overall graduate student experience

Accomplishments:

Institutional Culture Change and Change Management.

- Launched strategic initiatives, strengthened campus partnerships, built partnerships with local and state communities, revised and updated the infrastructure of graduate education. The impact: an enhanced strategic positioning of the Graduate School within the fabric of the university and with the community to support the Kansas' economic prosperity goal
- Created a communication structure for graduate stakeholders to improve information sharing, to increase transparency and to continuously build trust between graduate faculty and the Graduate School

- Developed and building a data informed graduate education culture. Created two dashboards: admission and retention to inform recruitment, retention strategies and graduate education culture building at both institution and at academic unit levels
- Created a continuous review of institutional policies and processes informed by trends in graduate education, faculty and students' needs, and best practices

Enrollment management:

- Developed and implemented a graduate enrollment management plan that builds on market segmentation, creating a synergy between centralized recruitment efforts and academic units' recruitment efforts. The work done in this area contributed to an increase of 34% graduate applications between Fall 2021- Fall 2024.
- Built up the recruitment of military and military connected students by doubling the credit and non-credit based graduate program offerings at Fort Leavenworth, KS. Built partnerships with other military bases.
- Designed and implemented over 10 graduate retention initiatives based on needs assessment analyses of graduate students and stakeholders. One pilot efficiency initiative alone positively impacted 7 departments and over 600 students.
- Designed and implemented, in partnership with Office of International Programming, a process to build the University's capacity and infrastructure for international partnerships to support international graduate enrollment and research partnerships.
- Worked with academic units to develop and implement 1+1 agreements with domestic and international universities (MOUs).
- Revised policies and processes to support development of academic programs such as accelerated bachelor-master programs, graduate microcredentials that led to an increase in creating interdisciplinary accelerated programs.
- Restructured the scholarship model for newly admitted graduate students to support academic units' recruitment efforts of very high achieving students.

Developed and implemented a graduate student success model that adapts to graduate students the best undergraduate student success strategies and practices developed by National Institute for Student Success (NISS) and the Gardner Institute

- Launched over several initiatives to support graduate student success.
- Strengthened the partnership with campus units to increase access to graduate students to services such as mental health and funding, and to increase access to professional development opportunities.
- Number of students involved in professional development opportunities increased over 100% in three years.

Operational excellence:

- Developed a process for a data informed review of policies and practices that govern graduate education using benchmarking and data. Updated several policies and processes that were hindering graduate student and graduate faculty successes.
- Increased the efficiency and effectiveness of administrative processes within the Graduate School, between the Graduate School and campus/academic units, reducing the number of challenging student situations by over 90%

- Enhanced the Graduate School’s role in, and support of, academic units in updating and creating new graduate curriculum, and in ensuring a smooth approval process through the shared governance approval process.
- Piloted a new graduate program review process grounded in strategic planning principles to development sustainability and growth plans for graduate academic program.

Strengthened the shared governance process by giving a strong voice to the Graduate Council in decision making in all areas of graduate education.

Developed and implemented an evolving fundraising plan for Graduate School to address the needs of today’s graduate student population. Doubled the number of donors. Launched the Parent Student Success initiative to provide support to students who are parents.

Increased the partnership with graduate faculty, development a mechanism to acknowledge and appreciate graduate faculty’s work, including the launching of a Graduate Faculty Mentor award.

Designed, launched a campus wide strategic planning process, and created a strategic plan aligned with the University’s strategic plan.

Administrative Appointments At Oakland University, Michigan: 2015 – 2021

Oakland University (OU) Institutional profile: Established in 1957 as one of the 15 public universities in Michigan, with a student population of nearly 19,300 (including 3,400 graduate students). OU offers 142 baccalaureate degree programs and 138 doctoral, master’s degree, and certificate programs. It is designated as a R2, doctoral research university with “high research activity.”

Chief Strategy Officer, July 2019 – January 2021:

- Reporting directly to the President, worked collaboratively with campus leaders from all divisions, and with the President, to lead and coordinate the implementation of the strategic plan and to develop processes and structures that support and strengthen collaboration among divisions through data driven decision making.

Accomplishments:

- Developed university level key performance indicators and action plans to move the needle towards the implementation of the university’s strategic goals by working collaboratively with all vice-presidents and their divisions.
- Provided expert advice and worked on strategic enrollment management, undergraduate student success (i.e. Excellence in Academic advising (NACADA), strategic planning projects.
- Launched and lead projects to support the advancement of women on campus.
- Worked with the Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Council to implement the university’s diversity goals. Lead an implementation of advancement of women diversity goal.
- Worked collaboratively with the Re-Imagining OU initiative of identifying strategic approaches and enhanced processes to position the university as a thriving higher education institution, while improving the efficiency and effectiveness of the university's operations. Served as co-chair of the Path Forward committee.

- Served as co-Institutional Representative to the MI-ACE.
- COVID 19 Pandemic crises planning work: Worked with campus leadership and the emergency operations center to develop processes to address to the pandemic crisis, to develop the return to campus plans, to assess OU's response to the pandemic and to update OU's pandemic preparedness plan.

American Council of Education (ACE) fellow, May 2018 – June 2019 (on leave from OU)

Host institution: Georgia State University (GSU), Atlanta, GA, ranked 2nd most innovative university in the nation and 2nd in the country for its commitment to undergraduate teaching.

Mentors: President Mark Becker (now retired) and Provost Risa Palm (now retired)

Fellowship experience: participation in all high-level decision-making meetings at the President, Provost, Deans, Vice-Presidents for Advancement, Student Success, Student Affairs and Research levels; shadowing GSU leaders; attending University System of Georgia key committee meetings; participating in student success, enrollment management, faculty development, strategic planning and leadership development projects; engaged in practical dialogues about institutional change and innovation with university leaders from several, diverse, higher education institutions.

I strengthened my knowledge and expertise in areas instrumental to innovation and change:

- Student success – developed a very strong knowledge of the Georgia University's and University Innovation Alliance's data driven student success model
- College to Career initiative: development of Career services
- Faculty affairs – revising Promoting and Tenure policies to support interdisciplinarity; and to increase faculty diversity
- Research – data driven strategies to advance faculty research
- Budgeting and Financial Management: strategies and best practices
- Innovation and change management. Organization adaptation and transformation to changes in the external environment.
- Consolidations and merger of higher education institutions
- University system policy and procedures especially in areas of student success, curriculum (i.e. general education), faculty and student policies, centralized administrative processes

Dean, Graduate Education/Graduate School. August 2015 – July 2019

Provide academic leadership and vision to advance graduate education through the integrated process of strategic planning within Academic Affairs. In coordination with all academic units, develop and implement enrollment and retention strategies; lead academic program review and development; lead review and implementation of policies and procedures; nurture a culture of graduate education; engage in fundraising and development of alumni relations; develop services for 3,400 graduate students based on needs assessment. Manage a staff of 22 members and a budget of over $2.5 million.

Accomplishments:

Institutional Culture Change and change management: Transformed and improved the institutional image of the Graduate School by laying the foundation to become a proactive, student-centered, supportive unit to students and faculty:

- Developed a regular and structured communication mechanism with campus stakeholders.
- Provided transparency of graduate policies and practices which led to improvements in graduate admission and policy implementation processes.
- Advocated for, changed, and enhanced the image of graduate education on campus by actions such as showcasing students and faculty, developing campus-wide collaborations, becoming involved in campus events and university level initiatives.

Enrollment Management: Developed a graduate strategic enrollment plan which led to stopping the graduate enrollment declining trend and an increase in new student enrollment.

- Created and implemented domestic and international recruitment strategies for both undergraduate and graduate students in collaboration with Undergraduate Enrollment.
- Developed new marketing strategies and annual marketing priorities using data analytics.
- Led an international recruitment trip to South Korea, Vietnam and Thailand (Summer 2017) that resulted in three signed MOUs (two with Vietnamese and one with South Korean universities).
- Led the initiative to provide in-state tuition for all domestic graduate students.

Operational excellence - Reorganization: Reallocated duties, changed reporting lines, and annual goals to enhance and prioritize student success and retention, student engagement, and student career development.

- Created a new recruitment unit.
- Worked with the Graduate Council and university stakeholders to identify and address graduate students' and faculty's needs.

Policies and processes:

- Evaluated graduate policies, redesigned processes and implemented new processes to increase efficiency and effectiveness, and to remove bottlenecks, in areas such as graduate students hiring, admissions, graduate policy implementation.
- Led the transformation of paper-based processing into electronic processing.
- Worked with institutional stakeholders on implementing a new bill due policy.
- Worked with the Provost's office to develop a standardized MOU and agreement forms for international collaborations.

Student success: Created new graduate student services and the basis for a student-centered culture

- Developed a customer service-based process that led to the reduction of student complaints by 90% and increased the speed of addressing complaints.

- Developed student graduation exit and needs assessment surveys. Used the results to create new services for graduate students to meet their needs such as PhD monthly mentoring sessions, social events for students, the Graduate Student Research Conference, the 3MT research competition, and graduate students writing support services (in collaboration with the Writing Center).
- Reformed the university-level student research and grant support in collaboration with the Research Office to create dedicated graduate research support for grad students.

Curriculum and university wide initiatives:

- Collaborated with Professional and Continuing Education (PACE) to develop a strategy to create non-credit professional trainings grounded in graduate certificates.
- Developed a Community College to Graduate School pathway (2+2+1) in collaboration with the Registrar's Office that was piloted by one department
- Worked with faculty from all schools/college to revise existing graduate programs and to create new ones based on job market needs. Led the governance process to revise over 20 master programs and graduate certificates, to create two new doctoral programs and to revise a third program.
- Worked with the School of Business to restructure post-graduate certificates to better address student needs and to increase enrollment.
- Developed a process for creating and implementing 4+1 accelerated master programs.
- Identified targeted programs and worked one-on-one with faculty to develop accelerated master programs.
- Worked on a 1+1 master program with an international partner.
- Led the reform of graduate program review: created and implemented a new graduate program review process focused on strategic planning.

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion:

- Developed a plan for a mentorship program for graduate faculty in collaboration with a faculty member and the Center for Teaching and Learning (CETL).
- Contributed to the launching of the inaugural OU Women's Leadership Institute Conference (2016) to support advancement of women on campus.
- Organized and led a Women's Mentoring brown bag circle for high-level female administrators.
- Shaped the development of the Diversity strategic goal for the university and its strategic plan as part of DE&I Steering Council and University Climate Survey committee.

Philanthropy: Established the foundation for philanthropy for the Graduate School

- Developed a Case for Graduate Education for the capital campaign (launched on 2018) based on graduate students' needs' assessment.
- Developed a fundraising process that produced over $500,000 in gifts (20% of GS campaign goal).
- Secured the allocation of a development officer to Graduate Education.
- Created the first ever Graduate Advisory Board and the first Homecoming event for graduate alumni.

- Served as member of the leadership team that launched OU's Women and Philanthropy initiative.

International initiatives:

- Strengthened collaboration with academic units and international partners resulting in a significant increase in the number of MOUs and agreements signed with partners from China, India, Vietnam, South Korea, and Taiwan in areas of Engineering, Business, and Nursing.
- Developed a strong collaboration with faculty from the School of Education and Human Services to brainstorm and establish non-credit programs, such as the International Women's Table for Iraqi students, and for-credit international programs with China and Iraq.

Teaching Fellow, Adjunct Professor, Teaching Assistant, University of Pittsburgh, Graduate School of Public and International Affairs (GSPIA), 1998 – 2001

Faculty Experience: Teaching and Research

Kansas State University:

I am supporting the Political Science department with:

- Recruitment: developing partnerships with military institutions, developing agreements
- Curriculum development, and streamlining the public administration master program

I have been working with the nonprofit management certificate program coordinator in the Staley School of Leadership studies to design the certificate and to develop a recruitment plan.

¹ The research requirement for KSU (R1) is different than the research requirement at the R2 universities I was at before. Due my extensive and intense leadership and administrative work I was short of two publications for the full professor appointment. Since 2021, I published two articles. I currently have two articles under review for publication and I am working on a book chapter.

Oakland University: I was a member of the public administration program in the Political Science Department. I worked with the public administration graduate coordinator to design a non-credit graduate certificate in nonprofit leadership and management.

Eastern Michigan University:

Graduate courses taught: Policy Formulation and Bureaucracy, Organizational Theory, Leadership and Nonprofit Management, Public Administration

Undergraduate courses taught: Leadership and Nonprofit Management, Public Administration, Organizational Theory, American Government, Internship

Courses developed (undergraduate and graduate): Leadership and Nonprofit Management, Historical Development of Nonprofit Organizations, Nonprofit Board Development, Fundraising.

Curriculum Development: Led the creation of the Minor in Nonprofit Management, the Nonprofit Management concentration in the Master of Public Administration program and the creation of the graduate certificate in Nonprofit Management

Working with Students:

- At EMU: I chaired or served on over 15 MPA students' capstone committees and Advised all MPA students in the nonprofit management concentration (undergraduate and graduate)
- At other institutions I have been serving as a mentor and career coach for students from all academic fields, but especially to first-generation and international students.

Teaching Acknowledgements:

Outstanding Faculty in Supplemental Instruction Award, 2004

Nominated for the Ronald W. Collins Teaching Award, EMU

Strategic enrollment management

- served on strategic enrollment management committees that developed both undergraduate and graduate recruitment and retention strategies
- worked collaboratively with undergraduate enrollment management units to support undergraduate enrollment management initiatives (recruitment and retention) and to build graduate enrollment management units and strategies
- developed and applied expertise in best student success initiatives (National Institute for Student Success (NIIS), NACADA, Gardner Institute)

Strategic Planning:

- led numerous strategic planning processes at department, college and University level
- work with nonprofit organization on their strategic planning process, led strategic planning retreats
- executive coaching of university and nonprofit leaders and managers

International

In every administrative role I have had, I have been using my international background and experience to seek out and to build relationships with international partners. Examples:

- I work with faculty, campus offices, to build structures for developing international partnerships that lead to student exchange, joined academic programming and enhanced research collaborations
- I worked with international faculty at OU to identify international partners to establish programmatic and research partnerships. For example, I planted the seeds for a very successful Women's Leadership development program for female Iraqi students. I regularly brainstorm with faculty to create new ways to expand the program internationally, and to connect it with the initiatives taking place in the community.
- Traveled to Southeast Asia and established relationships with universities in Vietnam and South Korea. Made presentations to USAID in Vietnam and Thailand.
- I contributed to strengthening the relationship with the University of Applied Sciences in Kehl, Germany while at EMU (2004 – 2014). I organized visits for faculty and students, planned joint academic programming, and delivered presentations.
- I established and developed a research agenda with the nonprofit management faculty of the Faculty of Political, Administrative and Communication Sciences (FSPAC), Babes-Bolyai University in Cluj-Napoca, Romania. It led to several research projects and publications.
- I worked with FSPAC faculty on reviewing the nonprofit curriculum to align to the NASPAA standards. I taught the nonprofit leadership course both online and face-to-face.
- I have used my international background to improve the institutional services offered to international students and to mentor them.

Department and program level

- I served on almost all department committees
- In addition to building a brand-new nonprofit curriculum, I was deeply involved in the two NASPAA program accreditations for the Master in Public Administration program (MPA). For the second NASPAA accreditation based on the new standards, I used student feedback, analysis of NASPAA guidelines, analysis of retention and graduation rates, to develop and promote new curricular ideas to increase graduate students' retention and graduation rates. My recommendation to transform the capstone project, the biggest hurdle towards graduation, into an applied consulting project for public/nonprofit organization was adopted after I left the department. It led to increased retention and graduation rates.
- Mentored junior faculty.
- Served on search committees for several new faculty as chair or committee member.
- Served on capstone committees as chair or member for over 15 students' capstones.
